Scott's Commentary on the Bible.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION ISSUE OF SCOTT'S COMMENTARY ON THE HOLY BIBLE.

IN SIX VOLUMES. CLOTH. THREE GUINEAS.

THE PERIOD OF SUBSCRIPTION EXTENDED TO 31st JANUARY.

Notwithstanding the large circulation to which this Commentary has already attained, the demand for it is still so great, that the Publishers have determined to issue another Edition at such a price as will enable many persons to procure it who could not do so at the price at which it was recently published—viz., SIX GUINEAS.

This is the only complete Edition that is, or can be, offered to the public, having the final additions and emendations of the author, extending to upwards of Four Hundred pages, which consist chiefly of Critical Remarks, most important to the Biblical Student.

The Work contains an elaborate and compendious view of the Scripture Evidences—an introduction to each Book in the Old and New Testament, with a statement of its purport and intent—copious Marginal References, various Tables, and a Chronological Index. There is also an extensive Topical Index, which places the whole contents of the Work before the Student, and which will be found of great use in the selection of subjects, or for the elucidation of doctrine.

There are also fifteen Maps and Sixty-Nine Steel Engravings, illustrative of Scripture Incidents and Scenery.

COMMENTATORY NOTES:—"It is the Comment of our Age."—Bishop of Calcutta.

"The writer has never consulted Mr. Scott's Commentary, on difficult passages, in vain. In every instance he found brief but solid refutations of alleged contradictions, which he could find in no other work in the English Language."—Rev. T. Hartwell Horne.

"I believe it exhibits more of the mind of the Spirit in the Scriptures than any other work of the kind extant."—Rev. Andrew Fuller.

"I never like to preach a Sermon without having seen what Scott says about it. If he takes the same view, I consider then that I am tolerably safe."—Rev. J. Harrington Evans.

"The name of Thomas Scott, and his Solid, Spiritual Commentary on the Holy Scriptures will last as long as the English language, and will be known wherever English Christianity shall spread."—Rev. W. B. Mackenzie.

The Work was originally published at EIGHT GUINEAS, and subsequently reduced to SIX GUINEAS. It is now offered, till the 31st January, at the low price of THREE GUINEAS, to parties who may be desirous of subscribing for a copy of the Work, and who are requested to forward their names, with a Post-office order for TEN SHILLINGS, as part payment, to

WILLIAM CURRY AND COMPANY,
9, UPPER SACKVILLE-STREET, DUBLIN.

It is expected the Work will be completed about the end of February, handsomely bound in purple cloth; and on the closing of the subscription list the price will be again raised.

Our Friends in Heaven;

OR,

The Mutual Recognition of the Redeemed in Glory Demonstrated.

BY THE

REV. J. M. KILLEN, M.A., COMBER.

"Its author is an eminent minister of the Presbyterian Church, and it contains a full and masterly discussion of mutual recognition in Heaven, characterised by a sound judgment, and invested with the attractive grace of a most chaste and classic style.—The Belfast Protestant of such a work."—English Presbyterian Messenger.

"A delightful, cheering, precious book it will, no doubt, prove to many. He answers the objections to the doctrine with great ability, and expounds it with a force and felicity of illustration which cannot fail to bring conviction to the minds of those who have done themselves the injustice of doubting one of the most cheering views of immortality."—Scottish Press.

"The work sheds a fresh and peculiar interest on many passages of the Word of God. A work dealing with the whole subject of Heaven in the same spirit of holy caution which honourably characterises the reasonings of our author is perhaps a desideratum. Mr. Killen might do worse than attempt it."—News of the Churches.

Edinburgh: Shepherd and Elliot. Dublin: Wm. CURRY and Co., 9, Upper Sackville-street.

Just Published, Fourth Edition, Price 10s. 6d.,

THE METHOD OF THE DIVINE GOVERNMENT, PHYSICAL AND MORAL,

By James McCosh, LL.D.,

Professor of Logic and Metaphysics, in the Queen's University for Ireland.

"Dr. McCosh enjoys in this country a distinguished reputation. His work on the Divine Government is generally regarded as one of the first books of the age."—Dr. Hodge, Princeton.

"Seldom has a work met with such general favour in America. For largeness of view, and clearness, force, and originality of argument, it is scarcely surpassed."—Bishop McTear.

"The argument is the effort of no common mind. The author cannot stir any question without throwing up the deeply-seated seeds of thought. He is, in general, a powerful and convincing reasoner, and like his master, Chalmers, he is able to clothe his severest logic in a gorgeously embroidered robe of imagery and eloquence."—Dublin University Magazine.
